October 2010 Issue

Phil Johnson (Skills Trainer for AITP) during recent training on a Fugro seismic vessel, offshore Malaysia.

The Vessel Manager – Seisquest, Darren Gilmour wrote: "I will certainly recommend your company to the other vessels in the region. The training has been excellent."

Thank you to Ole Martinson who provided our Clients with an introductory to 7MasterKeys!

The presentation took place at AITP's Sundowner on 1st Oct. For further information on 7MasterKeys, view the link below:

Outdoor Worker Research Study

Western Australia has the second highest incidence of skin cancer in the world. Cancer Council Western Australia needs your support to participate in a research study investigating sun protection policies and/or procedures for outdoor workers. For this study the Council would like copies of policies and/or PPE (personal protective equipment) procedures from small, medium and large organisations in urban and regional locations. If you can help, please email the policy or PPE procedure by Wednesday October 20 to:

Helen Muccilli, Sunsmart Workplace Coordinator at hmuccilli@cancerwa.asn.au or for more information contact Helen on 9388 4350.

Can you help Cancer Council WA ?

In addition, Cancer Council WA hopes to conduct some brief phone surveys with outdoor workers as well as OSH supervisors and/or managers from a representative number of Organisations participating in this research. The phone survey will explore the barriers workers and managers have to wearing broad-brimmed hats, long sleeve shirts and sunscreen. Respondents will be selected randomly. Please provide contact details if your organisation is willing to participate in this phase of the research.

CONGRATULATIONS SHELLEY!

AITP updated our Toshiba e-Studio Photocopier last month and in doing Shelley Richards was successful in winning Toshiba's competition
